OFFICIALS PROPOSE COMPETITION TO P. E. RAILWAY

Raise in Fares and Cemetery Subjects for Discussion at Association Meeting

"We'll reduce the fares to Los Angeles if Councilman Sam Davis and myself have to hire a truck and haul passengers down Brand boulevard."

That was one of the forceful statements made by Mayor Spencer Robinson at last night's specially called mass meeting of the South Glendale Improvement Association at the branch library building on South Brand boulevard, which was attended by the city manager, mayor, councilmen, city attorney and other municipal officers.

The purpose of the session was that of the discussion with the city officials of numerous municipal and civic propositions that have recently been brought before the public, particularly those regarding Pacific Electric rates, the electrifying of the Union Pacific (Salt Lake) railroad on Glendale avenue, the lowering and grading of Brand boulevard between Colorado boulevard and the south city limits and the possibility of future location of a cemetery within the city.

The meeting was in charge of Stuart Street, who is president of the organization.

Commission Condemned

The general theme of the discussion of the rate increase was that of condemning the state railway commission, which was declared by Councilman C. E. Kimlin to be "working for the corporations." The main reason for the recently levied "outrageous rates" on the local interurban line was hinted throughout the evening to be on account of the alleged close relationship between the railroad officials and the members of the state railway commission.

In speaking of the action of the Pacific Electric railway, which is owned by the Southern Pacific lines, Councilman S. A. Davis stated that, in their reports showing a net loss on running expenses of the various lines, "the P. E. has the best set of bookkeepers in the country and they

Alleged Jewel Thief Is Held for Trial

On December 20, 1921, The Glendale Evening News printed the following page one story.

"Mrs. A. G. Smith has reported to the police that last night two men gained entrance to her home, 661 West Lexington drive, and robbed her of some jewelry. Chief of Police Allen O. Martin and Detective George Delgardo are investigating."

Investigation since then has led to the arrest of Walter Sharp who was yesterday held for trial by Justice of the Peace Channing Follette in Los Angeles. It is alleged that he and another man stole diamonds valued at $8,900, one ring being valued at $2100.

Officers Wood and Murphy of the Los Angeles police department arrested Sharp while he was trying to sell this ring, according to Deputy District Attorney McDaniel who conducted the hearing.

Glendale State Bank Directors Re-elected

Stockholders of the Glendale State bank held their annual meeting at the banking rooms in the Central building yesterday afternoon and re-elected the following directors: Charles H. Toll, A. R. Eastman, Howard W. Walker, W. E. Evans, C. E. Kimlin, Oma A. Fish, John Hyde Braly, C. D. Lusby and Peter L. Ferry.

The directors, in turn, chose the present officers to continue with the successful conduct of this recently-organized bank. They are: C. H. Toll, president; A. R. Eastman, vice-president; Howard W. Walker, vice-president; C. D. Lusby, cashier and secretary-treasurer, and George Farmer, assistant cashier.

Building Committee Meeting Postponed

The meeting of the building committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson is president, and which was scheduled to have taken place yesterday, was postponed until Saturday, at which time the members of that committee will confer with the architect, Alfred Priest, and plans will be submitted by him for the new clubhouse to be built at Lexington drive and Central avenue.

Virginia Rowley Is Regaining Her Health

Virginia Rowley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Rowley of 334 Vine street, is recovering from the effects of a serious mastoid operation, which she underwent Tuesday night at the Glendale Sanitarium. She expects to be able to return to her studies at the Intermediate school within the next few days.

Tweet! Tweet! This Tale of Bird Is Worth Page 1 Nest

Here's a bird of a story about a canary.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Phillips of the Jewel City Undertaking parlors delight in having cheer birds about their pleasant establishment.

One of these is of age now, being 21 years old and fully entitled to vote. However, the average canary doesn't live such a long life and this bird is blind in one eye, crippled in both feet and its tail feathers droop.

Yes, it is even too old to climb onto a perch, but it sits in the sun and seemingly enjoys life watching the younger members of the feathered tribe do tricks on the trapeze.

FOOTBALL BANQUET AT HIGH SCHOOL 'GAME' AFFAIR

Lots of Humor Served, As Well As Pleasing Menu, by Girls' League

The annual Glendale Union high school football banquet was served at 6:30 last night in the school cafeteria under the auspices of the Girls' league.

Guests of honor were Dr. Harry V. Brown, T. D. Watson, Daniel Campbell, and H. W. Watson, of the board of trustees. In brief speeches they expressed their appreciation of the honor bestowed upon them.

The faculty was represented by four. Principal George U. Moyse spoke upon "Sportsmanship"; Coach Normal C. Hayhurst commented upon "The Value of Football Training in Later Life"; Assistant Coach Howard L. Butterfield poke upon "Football and College." Assistant Principal A. L. Ferguson was present, also.

Other toasts were offered by Williard Roberts, captain of the midget team, on "The Varsity Team this Year"; Fred Stofft, captain of next year's football team, on "Next Year's Football"; Chester Green, quarterback for this year's team, on "The Midget Team"; Bernard Davison, captain of last year's football team, on "Records Glendale has made this Year"; and Fred Terzo, "The Girls' League and What We Owe Them."

Yum! Yum! That Menu!

Paul Hutchinson, president of the student body, acted as toastmaster and added much humor to the occasion.

The menu consisted of fruit salad, roast pork with cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, creamed peas in timbale cases, hot rolls, coffee, and strawberry ice cream sandwiches.

Domestic science classes, under the direction of Miss Ellen Hanson, prepared the food as part of their regular class work. It was served under her direction by members of the Girls' League among whom were: Lucille Nelson, Elsie Jefferson, Olive Swenson, Evelyn Gregg, Virginia Huntley, Kathleen Campbell, Marjorie Yarick, Margaret Morgan, Betty Felt, Dorothy Peart and Doris Packer, president of the girls' league.

The long table, the width of the cafeteria, was marked at intervals by

Rev. W. E. Edmonds Examines Candidates

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Church of the Lighted Cross, yesterday, as chairman of the examination committee, examined verbally four candidates for the ministry at the Vermont Avenue Presbyterian church during the quarterly session of the district presbytery.

Commenting upon the pressing need for new blood in the ministry to keep up with the expansion of the Presbyterian church, Rev. Edmonds welcomed those of whom he inquired their ideals and purposes for entering the ministry and wished them God speed during the next two years of their theological preparation before being ordained.

About 100 ministers and elders of the church were present. Among them was Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor of the local church. Reports of various official boards and most of the departments of the church were submitted. No financial reports were made.

Mrs. C. G. Putnam Is Bridge Club Hostess

The members of the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge club were delightfully entertained yesterday with a course luncheon at the home of Mrs. C. G. Putnam, 424 North Glendale avenue. The table was centered with red and white carnations. Place cards were hand-painted, the decoration motif on each being a ladies' face. Bridge followed the luncheon. High score was made by Mrs. W. W. Parker, who was rewarded with an artistically framed picture of a child. The members present were Mrs. E. E. East, Mrs. Frank George, Mrs. C. C. Carroll, Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. W. W. Walker, Miss Elma Miess, Mrs. Robert Pease of Los Angeles and the hostess, Mrs. Putnam.

THIS TALE OF DIRT ALL BOUND ROUND WITH TOWELS!

Here, Folks Is Something to Try on Your Blackboard: It's School Problem

By ART SHERBORNE

Mr. and Mrs. Macbeth almost had a family fight over "a spot."

That's nothing, this copy is all gummed up with spots.

How often should school "kids" wash their hands?

Rather, how often will they be able to do so after the last of this month?

No, there is nothing wrong with the school plumbing. There is still plenty of the-stuff-that-comes-out-of-faucets on tap. But the grammar school board has just ordered its final supply of paper towels for next semester—$187 worth of 'em.

Last summer they were invoiced at $13.50 a case. On account of this price the board refused to conform to usual practice and order a year's supply at one time. Now the price has dropped to $11 and 17 cases have been ordered, meaning a saving of $42.50 to the taxpayers.

We Start from Here

Each case contains 7500 towels—or enough to have dried considerable dampness during the recent moist period.

However!

These towels are expected to last between February 1 and June 16. During this period there are ninety-seven school days. Most any mathematician could figure that this means 1314½ towels a day.

No ruling has yet been made prohibiting teachers from washing their hands once in awhile. Most of them do so oftener. There are ninety-one teachers. This would mean almost 100 extra towels a day were it not for the fact that eighty-six of them are women and will insist upon washing their faces as well as their hands and, consequently, will utilize at least three towels a day. Two hundred and fifty-eight more towels!

The five male teachers are entitled to wash at least once a day. Two hundred and forty-eight towels!

The ten janitors will insist upon

Mrs. May Emery Is Chapter L Hostess

The members of Chapter L, P. E. O., spent a most delightful day yesness. with the president. Mrs. May Emery, 329 North Kenwood street. The morning was devoted to business, with the presidnt, Mrs. May Lee in charge. A delicious luncheon was served at noon, with Mrs. Emery, Miss Waunita Emery, Mrs. Jessie Russell and Mrs. Josephine Bryant as hostesses. Mrs. Bryant, chairman of program committee, was in charge of the program, which included two piano numbers by Miss Eva Green. The members of the chapter were very happy to have with them at that time Mrs. Stella Carver, first California state president, who gave a most interesting talk on "The Origin and Spirit of P. E. O."

Mrs. Edith Huntley, chairman of philanthropy, was in charge of the sewing and the women were kept busy sewing on garments for the True Love Home in Los Angeles. It was decided to discontinue this work for awhile and sew for the needy in Glendale. Guests of the club yesterday were Mrs. Carver of Los Angeles and Mrs. Law of McPherson, Kansas.

Basketball Battles at High School Gym

Two basketball games were played last night in the boys' gymnasium of the high school.

A local quintette from the National Guard defeated the Knights of St. Paul from the First Methodist church of Los Angeles by the score of 37 to 20.

A team from the Glendale district of the Standard Oil Company was defeated by a team from the Pomona district by the score of 4 to 26.

The line-up for the guard team consisted of Bernard Dennison, who made seven baskets, Kenneth Wilde, who made three baskets from the center of the floor and two more, Clarence Jensen, Dan McIver and Walter McIver. Clarence Jensen, who made eleven points, had to leave the game at the end of the first half on account of a bruised hip. His place was taken by Roger Dennison.

The line-up from the Standard Oil team was composed of C. W. Letts, H. V. Smith, who made the four points by one basket and two safeties, K. H. Knesel, C. C. Carroll and P. F. McCloskey. R. R. Andres and V. W. Bland played in the second half. The next game for this quintette is scheduled with Long Beach on January 18 here.

MRS. BLANCHET HOSTESS

Mrs. George A. Blanchet of 371 Pioneer Drive was hostess to a group of sixteen friends at a very charming luncheon and card party given yesterday afternoon at an exclusive tea-room on Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena. Prizes at cards were awarded to Mrs. Mildred Vogel for whist and to Mrs. Caroline Ratte for 500.

Mrs. J. B. Sherwood Is First President Local War Mothers

Mrs. J. B. Sherwood of 357 East Broadway was elected yesterday afternoon as the first president of the Lester Meyer chapter of the national association of War Mothers at the regular meeting of the organization at the home of Mrs. Samuel Dick of 309 North Louise street. Although the local chapter has been organized for several weeks no permanent officers had been chosen prior to yesterday's meeting, all activities having been in charge of temporary leaders.

The other officers chosen to serve during the coming year were Mrs. Samuel Dick, vice-president; Mrs. H. L. Hock, recording secretary; Mrs. Ella Richardson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. E. Eckles, treasurer; Mrs. L. T. Rowley, historian and parliamentarian; Mrs. J. N. McGillis, auditor.

The women who served temporarily through the infancy of the organization were Mrs. L. T. Rowley, president; Mrs. J. N. McGillis, recording secretary; Mrs. Bertha Webb, treasurer.

During the season preceding Christmas the War Mothers of the local chapter had a large box placed in Chaffee's Grocery Store where donations for the boys in Los Angeles, who had no home or place to go, could be left. At yesterday's business session a vote of thanks was given to all who had contributed so generously and especially for the splendid box which had been prepared by the women of the northern section of the city.

Following the meeting, which included numerous discussions of plans for the coming year's activities, the presdent-elect extended an invitation to the members to attend an informal "reception and get acquainted" meeting to take place at 3 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon at her home on East Broadway. Prior to that time the newly-elected officers, who form the executive committee of the chapter, will hold an official business meeting.

BIG ORANGE CROP, DEMAND LARGE, PRICES LOW

Sparr Packing House Here to Employ 40 People, Says Manager Forrest

The Sparr Fruit Company's packing house at Glendale was one of the first in southern California to send away Christmas oranges from southern California, according to L. C. Forrest, manager. The pack was started shortly before the holidays and after two week's activity closed for a fortnight to permit the ripening of more fruit in this vicinity so that the crew of 20 pickers could be steadily employed.

According to Mr. Forrest this brief vacation comes at a time when the market is recovering from an over supply of Christmas fruit and prices will be better later on. Fifteen packers and general house workers are employed at the plant located on a Salt Lake spur track at the corner of California street and Glendale avenue.

Big Crop, Good Demand

The citrus crop this year is one of the best in history, according to Mr. Forrest, although the prices are slightly lower. However, there is a heavy demand to be met by a bumper crop. Probably 100 cars of fruit have gone forth so far this year.

The success of standardization of the crop has been noticeable in eastern markets and oranges grown in Glendale's vicinity have a reputation for quality. The trees this year are heavily laden and many of the burdened limbs have been propped.

Today's World News In Brief

(By International News Service to Glendale Evening News)

CALL GENERAL STRIKE ON ALL RAILROADS IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, Jan. 12.—A general strike on all the railroads in Ireland was called today. Twenty-three thousand men are affected. It was declared that the strike has no political significance. The men have been threatening to strike for about a fortnight. President Arthur Griffith is expected to offer his services as mediator.

COMMANDER DENIES STORY OF 'WHOLESALE HANGINGS'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Colonel Samuel V. Hamm, who commanded the American troops at Is-Sur-Tille, France, where "wholesale hangings" of American soldiers are alleged to have taken place, appeared today before the Watson investigation committee of the state and emphatically denied that any such number of soldiers had been executed.

PREMIER BRIAND RESIGNS; CABINET GOES WITH HIM

PARIS, Jan. 12.—Premier Briand today resigned as a result of criticism over his policy in the supreme council meeting at Cannes. The premier announced his resignation in the chamber of deputies during a violent uproar. The cabinet's resignation went with that of the premier. The most serious crisis European politics has known since the war has been precipitated by the resignation of M. Briand.

1ST JURY PANEL, ARBUCKLE CASE, MAY BE EXHAUSTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Exhaustion of the first panel of jurors without the selection of a jury to hear the evidence in the second trial of Roscoe ('Fatty") Arbuckle for manslaughter loomed as a strong possibility today as the task of selecting a jury was resumed. Of the original sixty-five in the panel but twenty remained today. Seven were tentatively seated in the box including three women.

DEFENSE ATTORNEYS MAKE PLEA FOR LIFE OF BURCH

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—The last impassioned plea for the life of Arthur C. Burch, on trial for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, for whom the prosecution has demanded the death penalty, were made by the defense attorneys to the jury today. A strong defense of Madalynne Obenchain, co-defendent in the case, was voiced by Burch's lawyers in their final attack on the prosecution's theory that Burch killed Kennedy because Kennedy refused to marry her.

CLOSE VOTE IS PREDICTED IN NEWBERRY CONTEST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—With forty-two votes certain against him and five senators in the doubtful class, Senator Truman H. Newberry's fight to retain his seat in the senate entered what was probably its final stage today. As the situation stood today it would take forty-five votes to unseat or confirm Newberry. Senators Johnson of California, Poindexter of Washington, Lenroot of Wisconsin, Weller of Maryland, and Pepper of Pennsylvania, all republicans, were the doubtful senators. Should any three of them swing their votes either way they would decide the issue.

BRITISH BONDS MAY PROVIDE FOR SOLDIERS' BONUS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Four billion dollars' worth of British government bonds, underwritten by the United States government, will provide for the soldiers' bonus, if the present plan of administration leaders, decided upon today, is carried out. Administration leaders are understood to be preparaed to go before the country with such a plan intended at once to take care of adjusted compensation for American ex-service men, and the British indebtedness to the United States. It is proposed that four billion dollars' worth of British government securities, guaranteed by the United States government, will find a ready market in this country if offered for general sale, and will lead to an early and speedy solution of the difficulties confronting the administration relative to the soldiers' bonus and the foreign debt.

Col. E. A. Havers Speaker Today at Local Rotary Club

Col. E. A. Havers was the speaker before the Glendale Rotary club this noon at the Chamber of Commerce banquet hall. He presented a 30-minute travelogue on "The Evolution of the Pen," telling of his personal experiences to the ancient city of Babylon and the ruins of Pompeii.

Colonel Havers is a member of the New York Rotary club and his seventieth trip across the Atlantic marked his attendance of the International Rotary convention at Edinburgh, Scotland, last year. He has been around the world three times and uses lantern illustrations to vivify his word pictures of the history and romance of civilization: He expects to speak before the Glendale Union high school body.

PAVING OF STREETS AROUND SCHOOLS UNDER INQUIRY

Just Who Is to Pay for Work? That's Puzzling Question to Various Officials

At the meeting yesterday afternoon of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations, which was held at the Intermediate school, the principal matter of business taken up was the importance of immediate action in regard to the payment of street improvement around school property, on which subject Richardson D. White spoke to the members present. During the course of his talk the following facts were brought out by him:

"In a conference with the city council and school board in September the council took the stand that the street improvement was to be paid by the school board as the owner of the school property, the same as an individual property owner. The school board argued from the standpoint that they did not believe it was right to take money raised for educational purposes to pay for street improvement.

"The school board received two reports, the one from the city engineer showed that the estimated street assessment for improvement of streets around school grounds throughout the city would amount to about $18,000 this year. The city attorney's report showed that the schools were not permitted the privilege of an individual in allowing the assessment to go to bond.

Always Short of Funds

"There is no law that compels the school board to pay for the improvement, but the city can and does propose to pave just one-half of the street unless they do agree to pay. In proportion to the rapid increase and growth of the city so has the school attendance increased. The enrollment is enlarged by several hundred every year. The appropriation for running the schools this year is based on last year's attendance, and that is the reason why the school board is always short of funds.

"The only way money could be obtained to pay for the street improvement now would be to cut the amount

INCREASE COST OF CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH $25,000

Original Plans Calling for $60,000 Structure Now Raised to $85,000

The Congregationalists are going to build an $85,000 edifice in Glendale this year!

That was decided upon last night by the members of the church at their annual meeting held last night after Blake Franklin, chairman of the building committee, gave a detailed report of the work already done. Carlton M. Winslow is the architect and the building committee was empowered to complete all arrangements.

Original plans called for a $60,000 structure. To aid Mr. Franklin with the work, Charles L. Peckham and G. H. Schulte were added to the committee now comprising Charles B. Guthrie, Thomas White, E. D. Yard and Hartley Shaw.

Reports By Officials

Following the dinner served by the women of the church to 150 members attending, the reports from all officials were read and approved. Surplus of funds was reported in both the current expense and benevolent treasuries and the pastor, Rev. C. M. Calderwood, reported that the working membership had doubled during the last year.

Hartley Shaw, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following names, all of whom were approved for various posts as follows:

W. L. Jencks, George F. Colson, Levi Chubbock and Benjamin Robison, Sr., deacons.

Mrs. Minnie Kinyon, Mrs. Mary Boettler, Mrs. Clara Bullinger and Mrs. Emma Alvord, deaconesses.

Charles L. Peckham, Eugene E. Gordon, Peter Hanson, E. A. Lang, and O. E. Von Oven, trustees.

Mrs. May B. Yarick, clerk.

Mrs. Isabelle Chappell, treasurer.

Mark D. Stoll, auditor.

Other Officials

R. E. Wolcott, chairman of committee on evangelism.

E. D. Yard, chairman of committee on social service.

Mrs. G. H. Schulte, chairman of committee on missions.

W. L. Jencks, chairman of committee on religious education.

S. F. Frazee, chairman of nominating committee; Mrs. Minnie Patterson, Mrs. Irene J. McReynolds, Peter Hanson and W. L. Jencks, members.

Mrs. Minnie Patterson, Mrs. Fern W. Shaw, annual delegates; Mrs. R. E. Wolcott, Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman, alternates.

Mrs. Dora Gibson at Conference on Music

Mrs. Dora Gibson, supervisor of music at Glendale Union high school visited the music department at the University of California, southern branch yesterday and also conferred with Miss Katherine Stone, supervisor of music of Los Angeles city. The object of the visit at the university was to see how things are being conducted there and what is being offered, with the view of being better able to prepare the members of the music classes at the high school who intend to go on and take the music courses at the university.

Mrs. Gibson, who is the local chairman in connection with the music memory contest to be staged here by the Glendale Music club, obtained some valuable information from Miss Stone as to how the music memory contest had been conducted in the schools of Los Angeles.

Hostess Secured for Business Women's Club

Mrs. Margaret Biggs, president of the Glendale Business and Professional Women's club, has announced that a hostess has been secured and that the rest rooms for the business women of this city, which have been furnished over Coker & Taylors plumbing shop on Brand boulevard, between Harvard and Colorado streets, will be opened for general use Monday morning at 11 o'clock. These rooms will prove to be very popular, especially at noon time, when the women may take their lunches there or may purchase part or all of their lunch, as it is planned to have the hostess prepare various dishes to be served at a nominal cost.

Dr. Boyer Will Visit Hospitals in Europe

Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Boyer of 232 North Orange street are planning to sail for Europe the latter part of February. Dr. Boyer is president of the Glendale Physicians' club. He intends to take post-graduate work in the European hospitals. He has been a resident of Glendale for the past nine years and has had offices in the First National Bank building since the time of its completion, and has arranged to have a competent physician take charge of his practice during his stay in Europe.

This Youth Is Dressed in Knitted Outwear

The WORLD OVER
By FRANKLIN P. MORSE.
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Like the divorce laws that obtain in this country, the rules that govern the boxing game are as diversified as the number of states in the Union. What is meat in one commonwealth, is poison in another and it does not seem strange that there should be a general ignorance concerning them.

At all events, whether or not it is the multitude of laws or the lack of them, there can be no question that the status of boxing is an indefinite one, and as long as this condition of affairs continues, the morale of the game, either professional or amateur, is going to suffer.

It is a question whether or not the detached "commission" which exists in some of the states, is the form of government best suited. We read every few days that this or that boxer has been debarred from showing in this or that state, and the next announcement is that this debarred man is matched to appear somewhere else.

Attempts have been made to institute certain central governing bodies that would have jurisdiction over the whole—a sort of court of high appeal, but immediately friction and jealousy have come to the fore and because of a non-unanimous support, the idea has fallen by the board.

Whether or no some such individual to the boxing game as is Judge Landis to the baseball game would prove feasible still is another matter. Baseball is highly organized. Boxing is made up of hundreds of individual units who are without responsibility. The manager and his boxer go their way without regard to anyone or anything, and the promoter is beholden to no one but himself or the inadequate government which now obtains. In the meantime, the public which pays the freight is the sufferer.

It is just because of this scattered and irresponsible condition of the boxing game that it is difficult to know how to pick up the multifarious thread ends and bring them together. There is no one, or no organization who is in authority to say what shall be in the matter of even "getting together" to talk the matter over. Unless vested with definite power which can be applied to the recalcitrant, it is evident that there can be no hope of a unification, or attempt at a general organization such as exists in baseball.

Every so-called thing of this sort which is alleged to exist in the ring game is not worth the paper it is written on. Certainly there must be some merit in an organization like the Amateur Athletic Union which has an absolute control over practically every individual amateur athlete in the country. Here are scattered units, perhaps unattached to any club which, in numbers, far exceed the number of boxers. If organization can be effected among the amateurs, why not a similar national governing body for the boxers, wrestlers and other professional players.

The answer probably lies in the fact that the average promoter, manager, boxer, wrestler, runner, etc., would rather take his own chances, and be footffree from any rules and regulations. This is a wrong condition. The public is the one to be considered and it should be protected.

SPORTS CHATTER
By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Swimming has at last been recognized by the Pacific Coast Conference and the first authorized competition among the colleges of the Pacific coast will be held at the Stanford University tank the week of April 15 to 22.

The recognition of aquatics by the conference is a decided factor for the advancement of this sport. Very little intercollegiate competition has been held in swimming on this coast in the past and the meet in April marks the first official recognition of the sport by the conference. California and Stanford for some years past have held dual annual meets and have produced some remarkable swimmers.

Stanford has probably the best facilities for a championship meet of any college on the coast. The pool is standard in size and meets all requirements of the International Swimming Federation, the A. A. U. of the U. S. and the Intercollegiate Swimming Association of the U. S. Besides this pool Stanford also has Lake Lagunita where a standard outdoor high diving board is to be erected and it is at this location that the conference diving championships will be decided with such world stars competing as Clarence Pinkston of Stanford and Kuehn of the University of Southern California, both of whom won world honors at the Antwerp Olympic games.

Oregon Agricultural has recently opened a new swimming pool, and the first coast conference championships were offered the Aggies, but declined owing to the fact that the sport is new there and they decided to bide their time until more general interest was aroused in the sport. The University of California has its own pool on the campus at Berkeley, fully equipped for a meet. The University of Oregon has a small pool up to standard, but accommodation for spectators is not as good as at other colleges. The University of Washington has no pool on the campus, but right in Seattle the swimming team has the use of one of the finest racing courses at a public bath that is to be found anywhere on the coast.

The recognition of swimming by the Coast Conference puts the Pacific coast colleges in line to add another sport to the fast growing list of events in which east vs. west collegiate competitions can be held. To date, no Pacific coast representatives have ever participated in the National Intercollegiate Swimming Association championships, but the recognition of the sport by the Pacific coast conference will have a decided tendency to eventually bring about representation of the Pacific coast colleges in this meet.

The new order of things will also tend to encourage more dual competitions between the various colleges of the coast. The sport will make a decided advancement in the northwest with pools at both Oregon and Oregon Aggies, while the University of Washington and Washington State college will also be in line to enter such competitions in the future.

Difficulty is experienced in procuring suitable horses for artillery, so experiments are being made with motor-tractors.

Illustrated Lecture Is Given School Pupils

"The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes" is the subject of an illustrated lecture to be given twice at the high school auditorium this afternoon by Lucius Grant Folsom, assistant director of the National Geographic Society's expedition into Alaska 1915, 1916, 1917 and 1919.

Mr. Folsom will describe the topography in the vicinity of Mount Kalma, the largest active volcano in the world. While on its slopes members of the party are reported to have been obliged to put their blankets under them to keep from being too warm. They cooked their food by placing it in the fumaroles, or steaming fissures in the rocks.

Iron Skeleton for Church Being Fitted

The iron skeleton for the new Christian church is rapidly being fitted together by employes of the Baker Iron Works. One of the horizontal girders which supports the balcony weighs ten tons. It was fitted into place with the aid of an appropriate block and tackle. The congregation expects to be able to use the new building the latter part of spring.

Motor-cars in the United States were responsible for 12,000 deaths, and property damage of $1,000,000,000 in 1920.

Nettles have been made into substitutes for cotton and other materials, paper, gas mantles, and dyes.

Set of Goat Glands Is Cause of Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO—A set of goat glands did not bring happiness to Terence Heavey.

Instead they led to the divorce court.

Testifying in her own behalf in seeking a divorce, Mrs. Heavey told Judge J. M. Troutt that the publicity attendant on Heavey's gland operation some years ago "caused her great humiliation and thus became a form of cruelty."

Mrs. Heavey won her divorce and $45 a month alimony. She was given custody of two of their four children and two were entrusted to Heavey.

The majority of people do not care for their eyes as they should. The eye is too delicate an organ to be subjected to haphazard treatment. A sudden change from a very bright light to darkness should be avoided and, if the eyes are at all weak, the prevailing color in the room in which such a one spends much time, should be in some tint that is soothing and restful to the eyes.

Pershing Shaved as King Albert Waited

PARIS—Under the heading "Military Exactitude," the Paris Midi prints the following:

"On his recent visit to Europe General Pershing returned to France from London and the authorities who awaited him at Havre were greatly astonished to see him debark at the exact hour appointed. For General Pershing, apart from his eminent organizing qualities, has one tiny fault. He has no notion of time, a thing that was often the despair of Marshal Petain.

"In July, 1918, General Pershing was due to meet King Albert of Belgium in a small village in the north. The hour approached, the king's train came into sight, but the general was not there. The commissaire at the railway station became worried and telephoned. An officer attached to Pershing's staff replied:

"'The General is shaving himself. Keep the king busy in some way for a quarter of an hour!'

"And during a quarter of an hour the royal train executed maneuvers upon the side tracks until General Pershing arrived to receive the king."

NEWSPAPERS COST HIM $50

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—"I'll subscribe in the future. It's cheaper in the end."

Thus remarked Mark A. Wallace, barber of Mt. Sterling, as he paid a $50 fine in Federal Court for taking the paper belonging in the post office box next to his. Wallace admitted taking the paper during the world series that his customers might keep posted on results of the games.

Compensation Bill Soon to Pass, Is Belief of Legion

WASHINGTON—Cash, paid-up insurance, vocational training, farm or home aid and land settlement are options offered World War veterans in the five-fold adjusted compensation bill which Congress is being urged by the American Legion to pass during its present session.

According to National Commander MacNider, of the American Legion, who bases his statement on information given him by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, author of the bill in the senate, and Representative Fordney of Michigan, who introduced the bill into the house, the legislation will become law during February, 1922.

The measure will become effective in July, 1922, as originally provided, Mr. MacNider believes. In connection with the bill it is significant that the legion has termed it "adjusted compensation" from the first as against the common term of "bonus."

When the bill becomes law each former service man or woman will be entitled to any one of the following options:

First—Adjusted service pay, at rate of $1 a day for home service and $1.25 for foreign service. Maximum of $500 for man without overseas service; $625 for man with overseas service.

Second—Adjusted service certificate (so-called insurance feature), a paid-up twenty-year endowment policy. The face value of this policy will be 3.38 times the amount that would be received in cash. The face value of this policy would be payable to the veteran at the end of twenty years, or if he dies before the expiration of twenty years the face value would be paid to the beneficiary of the policy. Loan values also are provided for.

Third—Vocational training aid of $1.25 a day while taking a course in vocational training. The amount thus paid in no case would exceed 140 per cent of what would have been paid in cash.

Fourth—Farm or home aid, 140 per cent of what would be paid under option No. 1 if the monew is used to purchase, improve or make payments on approved farm or city or suburban home.

Fifth—Land settlement:

(a) Provides for the establishment of reclamation projects for the development and improvement of vacant land. This may be government land or may be land purchased by the government. If possible, projects will be located in each state, the state paying part of the purchase price of private lands bought for this purpose. Former service men to be employed on the project as far as possible.

(b) Provides for the sale of farm units on these projects when they are ready for settlement. Sale price is to include purchase price of land plus cost of improvements. Terms, part down, rest in forty years at 5 per cent interest.

(c) Veterans may have their adjusted service pay applied as first payment on this land.

Story of Shooting Is Again Told in Court; Spectators Removed

Again the story how Henry J. (Jack) Ronsee was shot down by D. J. (John) Allen at La Crescenta lodge New Year's morning was told in the court of Justice Channing Follette in Los Angeles yesterday. It was necessary to clear the courtroom because of the crowd of La Crescenta and Glendale friends of the deceased, who are determined that the district attorney's office shall prosecute to the limit, regardless of the fact that Deputy W. Maxwell Burke was a witness to the killing. The hearing continues today.

Four years is usually as long as most men can stand driving a motorbus in the city of London.

First of Series of Recitals for Benefit of Catholic Church Organ Fund to Be Given at Glendale Theatre Next Sunday Afternoon

Latest Picture of the Holy Family Catholic Church

Now that the parish of the Holy Family church has an edifice built which is a credit to this city, it is the intention to make it complete by installing the best organ that can be bought.

But pipe organs cost a great deal of money, if they are good and sufficient, so it is necessary for Harry Girard, "the singing organist," to come to Father James S. O'Neill's aid and plan how an organ fund shall be raised.

As previously announced, he has hit upon the scheme of having a series of twilight recitals by truly famous artists, the first of which will be given at the Glendale Theatre this coming Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Already the subscription sale of seats has nearly equaled the capacity of the southland's largest theatre of its type.

"It is a wonderful response to my humble efforts," said Mr. Girard this morning, "and I hope that everyone possible will avail themselves this opportunity of hearing such stars as Truly Shattuck, James Burroughs, Alma Murphy-Halff, Carl Gantvoort, Frank C. Egan, Agnes Cain-Brown, Virginia Ainsworth, and others."

BETTER TIMES ARE STRAIGHT AHEAD, SAYS OFFICIAL

Both Financial, Industrial Conditions Improving, Is Treasurer's Statement

By H. K. REYNOLDS
Written for International News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—The economic situation of America is growing stronger, Frank White, treasurer of the United States, declared in predicting "better times ahead" and a substantial improvement in financial and industrial conditions during the coming year.

White urged the lifting of restrictions in the money market and asserted that an extension of bank credits was "absolutely necessary." He contended that money conditions indicated a business revival which could be continued in 1922 with the help of the big financial institutions.

America enters the new year under peculiar financial conditions," White said. "I feel that the nation has passed the bottom of depression and that better times are ahead.

"The currency in circulation is the barometer of the nation's industrial activity. During active times when business is flourishing, a large volume of currency is needed. In prosperous tmes, large amounts of money remain in the people's hands.

Reach Industrial Peak

"In 1920, the maximum per capita was reached—nearly $60—and it also was the peak of industrial activity.

"In 1921 the reverses occurred. Money left the pockets of the people. There was a reduction of almost one billion dollars in the money circulated. Business reached the bottom of depression. The per capita was about $52 for the year.

"The great volume of money coming to the treasury was for redemption. The federal reserve banks sent in money for credit rather than for reissue. This volume has remained practically stationary for the last three months.

"The indications for 1922 point to a business revival if money restrictions are removed. Business must get better; surely it cannot get any worse.

"The readjustment of prices is moving slowly. Accumulated money reserves must be loosened. It is absolutely necessary that there be an extension of credits. The banks have a larger cash reserve now than a year ago. This money must be put back into circulation and the return to normalcy will follow."

Armenian Boy Now Mascot U. S. Warship

WASHINGTON—After losing his parents in one of the numerous Turkish massacres in Armenia and having as his only habitation an overturned small boat on the shore of the Black Sea, a 10-year-old Armenian boy was rescued by American sailors and liked the navy so well he has now adopted the name of the ship as his own.

The youthful refugee now goes by the name of Harry Overton, after the U. S. S. Overton, members of whose crew rescued him from starvation. He is now aboard the Overton, where he constitutes an exceedingly active member of the "gang," performing all sorts of sailor jobs about the ship.

He was first found by the crew of the Overton's motor launch, which was cruising off Batoum, on the Black Sea, who picked him up off the beach and, after feeding him, returned to their ship with their mascot.

Bicycle Races in Store Window Will Start Next Tuesday

William A. Pfeifer is going to stage a series of bicycle races and endurance contests at his store, 110 South Maryland avenue, on Tuesday of next week. He will have two wheels mounted on rollers in the windows of his new establishment and about fifty high school boys will be entered in the competition, including five-minute speed tests, endurance tests, etc. The events will start at 2 p. m. and continue until 8 o'clock in the evening when prizes will be awarded.

In addition to the athletic features of the program there will be models of bicycles on display representing the development of the industry. The oldest wheel will be one used in Hartford, Conn., in 1868, and other original models made in 1878, 1884, 1888 and 1891. Each is insured for $500 apiece although they are not worth their weight in iron, according to the manufacturer's representative who is promoting the program.

Excessive Prices to Face Federal Inquiry

By W. H. ATKINS
Written for International News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—The government's chief investigating agencies were merged today in a determined effort to drive down excessive retail prices. At the suggestion of Attorney General Daugherty, the probe will be extended to all classes of business in an attempt to fix responsibility for wide differences between wholesale and retail prices in various parts of the country.

Supplementing the search for profiteers in food, clothing, fuel, shoes and other household necessities, the attorney general has directed that the government widen its probe to include middlemen and others suspected of maintaining high prices.

The department of justice, cooperating with the department of labor and commerce, today sought information from agencies in all parts of the United States that may show that manufacturers and middlemen are openly violating the law, in order to keep prices at or near war levels on numerous articles.

Retail price charts and other data, compiled by government agents working under direction of William J. Burns, convinced the attorney general that only the surface has been scratched and that the probe must go deeper, if those to blame chiefly are forced into the open.

The attorney general will consolidate much of the information to be gathered with other information on file relating to alleged profiteering among the building material manufacturers. He does not seek merely to strike at petty profiteering but is eager to get the "big fellows" heading the business cliques.

Parsimony Not Divorce Ground, Judge Rules

DENVER, Colo. — Henceforth Colorado is to be the haven for husbands threatened with divorce because of parsimony. Penury—even downright stinginess—is no grounds for legal separation. The man who piles up his pennies and makes his wife account for every nickel is not guilty of mental, or any other kind of cruelty, according to District Judge Chester J. Morley.

Emma Guthrie appealed to Judge Morley for a divorce from Ewing C. Guthrie, pioneer physician. The Guthries, according to the complaint had lived harmoniously for twenty-two years when the physician became "so parsimonious he made the complainant account for every cent expended for personal or household expenses."

"Parsimony is merely a condition of 'for better or for worse,'" Judge Morley ruled in dismissing the complaint.

FOOTBALL BANQUET AT HIGH SCHOOL 'GAME' AFFAIR

cross strips of red tissue paper which represented the yard-lines on a football field. In the center of the table reposed a football ready for the kick-off. At the north end of the table a small goal trimmed in green and red represented Monrovia; while at the south end a similar goal was trimmed in Glendale's colors of red and black. The color scheme of red was further carried out in the peanut baskets.

Boy, Page St. Patrick!

Original place cards by Miss June Goto, high school student, and appropriate favors attracted considerable attention.

Principal Moyse saw green snakes before the banquet was over. That is, he saw one of them. It came out of a jar labeled "razberry" placed at his plate as a favor. The weird reptile caused much amusement. He was represented upon his place card—that is, Mr. Moyse, not the snake—as a black clad cleric.

Assistant Principal Ferguson was depicted as a bookish professor and was "favored" with a balloon-whistle.

Coach Hayhurst was depicted riding a racing auto headed for goodness-knows where. Beside his plate was a miniature referee's whistle.

An athelete in gym togs victoriously completing the last lap of a race set aside Coach Butterfield's place.

For "Hoot" and "Pants"

A set of Ford tools, consisting of a hammer, cold chisel, screw driver and monkey wrench, reposed in a pill box beside William Gibson's plate and his place card was inscribed with his nickname, "Hoot."

"Pants,"—or rather, Robert M. Court, found his place in front of the small painted figure of a student attired in brown brogans, loud black and white checkered trousers, a pink shirt and green tie.

A kiddy car of pink and white imitation French ivory was parked by the butter dish of Masurii Horri, who was depicted upon his place card as a football player upon roller skates.

The place card for Joseph McKee illustrated a student wearing black trousers with blue stripes, a lavender rough-neck sweater and a lavender and blue jockey cap riding upon a pig in a hurry. As a present he received a jazz band in a pill box.

Russell Eiffer, who is known as "Jersey," was shown as a youth in tan oxfords, loud sox, green trousers and a red sweater, enjoying an outing upon a shorthorn, who just "couldn't make his eyes behave." Beside his plate had been placed a New Year's rattler.

Very Well Illustrated

About 350 pounds of feminine loveliness reposed in the stern of a green boat marked "Brookside" with its prow high in the air, which Fred Pick's place card represented him as vainly trying to pull back to the level of the lake with a long oar.

Known as "Crook," Ronald West was illustrated as a "Raffles" in glossy patent leather pumps, midnight black trousers, pink sweater and cap. In one hand a large flash light seemed to vie with a lighthouse in brilliance. His favor was a banjo.

Dressed in a leopard skin Fred Terzo, nicknamed "Fritz," was represented as an Ajax lifting stage dumb-bells weighing 2000 pounds and four ounces with one hand and two feet. Beside his place stood a small dressing table mirror.

A put-and-take-top fell to the lot of Dr. Harry V. Brown.

"Johnny" Richardson was illustrated as a flaxen-haired blue and black clad Buster Brown. To him was given a clay pipe.

All Important—If True

Alfred Johnson, who received a toy blue umbrella, was depicted as setting a pace for a determined and energetic goat of the "butting" variety.

A small red lobster marked the eating space of Chester Green, known as "Gump," and depicted upon his place card as Andrew J. Gump, Esq., in a conventional shirt sleeve meditation.

A pigeon-toed angel clad in modest lavender night gown marked the place of Carol White.

"A Cure for Boneheads" was inscribed upon the pill box beside the glass of Marshall Wilson, who is known as "Eagle Beak." Within it was a diminutive hammer and chisel.

"Come Fly With Me" declared the lettering on another capsule box adjoining at the place of Pierson Taylor. This contained an aeroplane. Yes, a toy.

Walter Fraley, known as "Tee Bone," received a fat cardboard steak and his place card illustrated a youth making eyes at a dinosaur shank before a dog kennel.

A plump lad in black trousers, white sweater, distinguished the place of "Ed" Stockbridge, who drew a mandolin.

Ready to Soar Away

The place card of Laufman Jeter caused considerable amusement. It illustrated a small dirigible with a hot tamale for a gas bag and the "family tub" for a basket.

Stillman Chase was illustrated as a jockey in black boots, white trousers and green sweater upon a horse which evidently was trying to roll somersaults.

Fred Hand was seen drinking a sponge and Clarence Hall was depicted as a fisherman in loud black and white checks who had just caught a ten-pound fish with a four-ounce pole.

Atwood Dutcher, called "Dutch," was depicted as a Hollander in football costume. He received a toy football.

Among others present were Bernard Dennison, who received a toy apartment grand piano; Willard Roberts, an auto of the vintage of 1905; Horatio Butts, an agate wrist watch; Thomas McClem; Richard Ryan, a puzzle; Gordon Barton, illustrated as a football player doing a hornpipe, and Marion Morrison, who received a fish whistle.

Before the banquet closed members of the first and second teams gave rousing yells for the Girls' League and Miss Ellen Hanson and her assistants.

MISS AMERICA MAY GO BAREFOOT, SO SAY SHOE MEN

Pink Toes May Stick Out on Main Streets Within Two Years, Dealers Hear

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
Written for International News Service

CHICAGO, Jan. 12. — Pink-tinted feminine toes will make their appearance on the main streets of the nation within two years, it was predicted at the National Retail Shoe Association convention here.

The fascinating Cleopatra pinked hers—why not next year's flapper, ask forward-looking men in the shoe business who observe a decided tendency on the part of the stylish young woman of today to display "more and more ankle and less and less shoe.

"In less than two years our girls will be almost barefooted—by choice," predicted K. M. Stone, importer and manufacturer of New York.

Tinkling bells on goloshes have been accepted without undue excitement in blase Sioux City, according to dispatches, and, say the shoe men, the advent of the protruding toe will be accepted by the nation with equal equanimity.

"Girls of tomorrow will pay as much attention to their feet as to their face," said Mr. Stone. "In the last five years they have progressed more in show styles than in twenty-five years before. That's why I predict protruding toes as the rage within two years.

Girls Demand Slippers

"Today you can't give shoes away. Girls won't wear shoes. They want slippers—the lower slippers—the lower the better. Skirts high, slippers low, that is the idea. As much ankle as possible must be shown. The tendency everywhere is toward sandals, and slippers with straps where the leather used to be. The less leather in the slipper the better it will sell. It is only another step to the protruding toe.

"Toes have a subtle charm. I venture to say Marc Antony thought so. You will soon see our girls dabbing their toes with henna and washing their feet as often as they now wash their faces.

"Silk stockings our girls will always wear. But when the toes are revealed the stockings will be sheer—very sheer."

The corrugated brows of many of the 10,000 delegates are the direct result, it was said, of Miss America's sudden abhorrence for what fathers and husbands who paid the bills formerly knew as the shoe. What to do—sell slippers and sandals exclusively, or turn foot manicurists, that seems to be the question.

Charles Kausen Has Evidence to Prove Business Is Good

Charles Kausen of the Hart Realty Company, 113 East Broadway, is an optimist. Conversation with him chases the glooms away. His optimistic mood soon dispels any doubt in one's mind that real estate in Glendale is not a profitable investment. He reports business very active and gives a list of sales made since November 1, including the holidays, that speaks prosperity beyond argument. November sales amounted to fifteen in number ranging in price from $950 to $15,000, and totaling $86,465. December sales amounted to $39,225, ranging in price from $1450 to $8000.

Among these sales were included the corner of Park and Brand, corner of Lexington and Brand, corner of Everett and Broadway, corner of Central and Hawthorne, and also at Orange and Hawthorne, Wilson and Glendale avenue, court site on North Brand, large tract on Windsor Road, comprising twenty-six lots, lot on South Brand near Maple, corner Elk and Pacific, corner San Fernando road and Vine. Included in the list were twelve houses and one business block.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

PAVING OF STREETS AROUND SCHOOLS UNDER INQUIRY

paid for teachers' salaries by shortening the school year.

"It had been suggested to the city council to levy an assessment over the entire city, but they stated that this would be a cumbersome and expensive procedure. The other suggestion made to them was to levy a special tax, which, however, could not be done until the first of July, the beginning of the new city year. They objected to that on the ground that they were trying to lower next year's taxes instead of increasing them.

To Visit City Council

Following Mr. White's talk the members of the federation voted that a committee, composed of the presidents of the various parent-teacher associations, appear before the city council at its meeting tonight and try to effect a mutual agreement in this connection.

A. T. Blanford was present and spoke in regard to the track meet which will be staged January 23, 24 and 25, and for which several cups and banners have been donated by the business men and asked that the federation furnish the ribbons for the winners of certain events, which was granted.

Among the other matters discussed during the meeting was that of the school nurse and of moving picture machines in the schools. Richardson D. White stated that a conference between the school board and Dr. J. E. Eckles, city health officer, has been set for January 24 regarding the nurse. The presidents of the associations were instructed to endeavor to secure the consensus of opinion of the parents in regard to the nurse.

The motion picture machines in the schools, Mr. White stated, were serviceable not only for entertainment but for instruction. There is an increasing supply of informational films now available for use as a supplement to the classroom instructions. At the present time the board has the matter under consideration for formulating definite rules in regard to the use of the machines in the class rooms, he stated.

The remainder of the meeting was given over to reports of committee chairmen and association presidents on the work which has been accomplished during the past month.

Mrs. John Robert White, federation president, presided.

Miss Louise Hart to Make Her Home Here

Miss Louise Hart, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hart, 501 North Louise, has so fallen in love with Glendale that she has decided to make her home here, and has taken charge of the office work of the Hart Realty company, 113 East Broadway. Mr. Hart, her uncle, is greatly pleased with her acceptance of this position, as business with him, he says, has outgrown his ability to handle it personally. Miss Hart has devoted several years with a large oil corporation in Texas, having gained valuable experience covering legal matters pertaining to all branches of commercial interests.

Miss Hart will devote part of her time toward public legal work, so far as drawing deeds, contracts, etc., are concerned. Also public stenography will be solicited. It will not be long before she expects to induce her father and mother to locate in Glendale. Her father, the elder brother of L. A. Hart, was the senior member of Hart Brothers' Mercantile company in Weatherford, Tex., and is now sole owner of a large wholesale produce business in Weatherford, but when Glendale beckons, it overcomes every objection that might be offered.

World's Oldest Man Lives on Vegetables

PARIS—Djuro Chemdine, the oldest man in the world, began life before the American War of Independence and should be able to furnish reminiscences of a wonderful kind.

Unfortunately he is illiterate, and appears to have confined himself during his three half centuries strictly to his personal affairs. He remembers the hanging of the Greek Patriarch Gregory in 1821, and he knows something of the terror of the Janissaries, but beyond that his mind is more or less a blank.

Chemdine has an enormous appetite, but he is a vegetarian, as he always has been, living on vegetable stews and fruits. He is very fond of sweetmeats. He never takes wine or alcohol in any form, and drinks water, and milk when he can get it. It is more surprising, perhaps, that he does not smoke, tobacco always having made him ill.

Modern Woodmen and Royal Neighbors to Install Friday Night

Glendale Camp, No. 12886, Modern Woodmen of America, and Glendale Camp, No. 8938, Royal Neighbors of America, will hold a joint installation of their respective elected officers for the year at a gala meeting to be held in the I. O. O. F. hall tomorrow night.

The Modern Woodmen Boosters' Association of Southern California will be in charge, the degree teams of Golden State Camp, No. 8110, Los Angeles, and of Pacific Camp, Royal Neighbors, will handle the initiating of several candidates, according to Henry Moiz, clerk.

Refreshments will be served and dancing will follow the meeting. All visiting neighbors, members of either order, are cordially invited.

should get more salary for their services than Paul Shoup."

Numerous other brief talks regarding the fare raise were made by Mayor Robinson, Councilmen Kimlin and A. H. Lapham, City Attorney Bert Woodard, Stuart Street, H. C. Levey, president of the Glendale Avenue Improvement Association, Dr. W. C. Mabry and Attorney Kemper Campbell.

'Weapons Discussed'

The various "weapons" discussed as a protection against the "unheard of" action of the electric line were the installation of a municipal line, the electrifying of the Salt Lake road, the installation of an automobile stage line operating between Glendale and the 5 cent car limit on Verdugo Road and the installation of a direct "bus" line to Los Angeles. Both the advantages and difficulties of each of the methods were freely discussed by the city officials, although it could not be decided which would prove the most practical.

"A municipal 10 cent line down Glendale avenue and San Fernando road to the new plaza arcade station by next June," was the suggestion offered from one member.

Councilman Lapham, who reported that the receipts of the local line of the Union Pacific company for last year were approximately $250,000, announced that there was a "possibility" of the company extending its line to Tujunga in the near future, to which Mr. Davis replied that "the Tujunga extension proposition is all propaganda and bunk. You don't catch the railroads doing anything for patriotism these days."

The oft-mentioned "community interest of railroads" was the reason given by several of the speakers for the Union Pacific's failure to electrify the railroad.

By a unanimous vote it was decided that the South Glendale Improvement Association would recommend to the local Chamber of Commerce that an initiative should be started in California to create the state railway commission by popular vote instead of by appointment. The motion was made by S. S. Gilhuly and seconded by Councilman Lapham.

Cemeteries Opposed

"We have to have cemeteries, but there are other places for them," was the consensus of the evening's speakers regarding the lawsuit which has been recently filed by the Oak Forest Land & Water Co. to revoke the ordinance which prohibits the locating or establishing of burial places within the city limits. The proposed cemetery site is in Scholl canyon, which was stated by several as being "the prettiest part of Glendale."

City Attorney Bert P. Woodard, in reporting on the legal status of the lawsuit, explained that the decision of the supreme court hinged upon the argument of the location being isolated from residential sections.

In the report of the land and water company it was stated that the nearest residence was a quarter of a mile from the proposed cemetery, while John N. Smalley, who has lived in the canyon for the past fifteen years, claimed that there are several houses within the quarter mile limit and that one of which is but 150 feet from the edge of the corporation's plot of land.

It was generally hinted that the so-called isolated spot was chosen by the corporation merely for the purpose of testing the ordinance. It was also intimated that "it seems as though there might be some affiliation between that concern and another cemetery."

It was reported that, through the efforts of City Manager William H. Reeves, Kemper Campbell and several others, the plan of the Pacific Electric railway to discontinue the stop at Los Feliz road had been abandoned.

THIS TALE OF DIRT ALL BOUND ROUND WITH TOWELS!

washing before each lunch and, supposing they only eat one lunch a day, that means ten more towels.

By wearing gloves and veils during school hours both secretaries should be able to get along with four towels a day.

That leaves Superintendent Richardson D. White. He is much too busy to be bothered by a little honest toil—or soil, rather. If the matter is put to him in a proper manner, probably he will be willing to use his pocket handkerchief for a towel, provided, of course, that Mrs. White doesn't object.

Subtracting the 272 towels enumerated, leaves 1042½ towels per day for the 3200 pupils enrolled in the Glendale grammar school system according to official figures.

Try This on Blackboard

Let X equal the unknown and solve to find out who washes and who doesn't.

As far as can be figured with a slide-rule, book of logarithms and back files of The Glendale Evening News, there will be one-third of a towel a school day for each pupil. Or each pupil may wash every third day. Mondays and Thursdays or Tuesdays and Fridays with a chance for a third group washing twice on Wednesdays.

"Johnny Jones, this is Tuesday; isn't this your day to wash your hands?"

However, half of the pupils are girls and they hate dirt worse than the Gold Dust Twins. On the other hand, boys get twice as dirty. That about evens things up. Then, too, boys are likely to oversleep or forget to wash before they leave home in the morning.

There seems to be only one solution for this grave and complicated problem.

For the first time has been discovered the purpose of a shirt tail.

If the boys are properly instructed to avoid the towels altogether, there may be enough to go around for the girls.

Meanwhile, "rub—don't blot."

Evils of Inflation Cause Business Slump

LONDON—The evils of inflation and disorganized exchanges have created an almost uniform monotony of distress. On the one hand we have countries whose depreciated and fluctuating currencies make foreign trade almost impossible, while on the other hand there are the relatively stable countries who are suffering almost equally through the shutting down of normal markets.

That is how Viscount Churchill described the financial situation of Europe at a meeting of the shareholders of the British Overseas bank.

"The result of all this," he said, "has been a drop in prices, and particularly a discrepancy between the prices of raw materials and finished products which has had disastrous consequences.

"As always in these times of crisis bankers have to stand as a buffer between their clients and the full force of the depression."

The bank has many connections with Poland, as had many other banking concerns in Great Britain, and in his mournful chant on the distressful conditions in Poland, Lord Churchill was voicing the complaints of bankers on the whole.

"Conditions in Poland continue to be unsatisfactory," he continued. "In spite of the real efforts towards reform which have been recently made by the government finances have continued to shrink further into the morass produced by heavy expenditure, insufficient revenue and consequently rapidly increasing inflation.

"This particular phase has to be regretted, as within the country itself substantial progress has been made during the last twelve months.

"Before Poland can be pulled together the problems of pruning down bureaucracy and militarism and of increasing the efficiency of the tax collecting will have to be solved. Given a form of government finance they might rely with confidence on the energy of the agricultural and industrial sections of the country to restore prosperity to Poland."

YOU CAN SWEAR AT HOME

WASHINGTON, D. C.—It is legal to swear in your own home, providing you do it quietly, in the opinion of Police Judge Hardison. The judge dismissed a charge of disorderly conduct brought against Carrie Hailstork when policemen complained of her swearing. Carrie, according to the police, swore fluently though quietly.

"If a person is arrested every time they swear in their own homes it will seem as though all our personal liberties have been curtailed," ruled the judge.

Gotham in Winter's Grip
California's Big Cheese
Maybe a Woman Thief
Too Busy for Solar Study

By Gil A. Cowan

NEW YORK presents a sad spectacle in the grip of a blizzard. The snow started falling in Gotham yesterday morning and by afternoon the 40 mile gale was whipping the moisture into sleet.

Telephone and telegraph service was badly crippled and 12,000 emergency workers were recruited from the ranks of the unemployed to fight the elements. Fire hose were kept playing on Broadway, Fifth avenue and other arteries of traffic to melt the snow and the water turned to ice, blocking the sewers.

Ambulances rushed back and forth through the crowds of commuters and others, carrying the injured pedestrians and motorists to the hundreds of hospitals. Patrons of the elevated are reported to have slipped and fallen to the streets the traffic toll is enormous and added to this is the suffering of the poor.

Such a picture telegraphed to The Glendale Evening News by its International News Service leased wire graphically tells what hundreds of residents of this city are escaping. For those who have suffered the rigors of an eastern winter in the vicinity of a metropolis, the fullest enjoyment of southern California is theirs.

Beside climate California has several industries that bring fortunes to their owners and workmen each year. Of these we all know about the films, the citrus crop, the beans, sugar beets, vegetables, fruit, minerals, etc., but from Berkeley comes the interesting report that more than six and one-half thousand tons of cheese were made in this state in a 12-month period. It is stated by H. M. Butterfield, supervisor of agricultural courses of the University of California, that California cheese leads all other varieties, but there is a rising demand for Cheddar cheese, a very highly flavored product. Stanislaus, Monterey and Humboldt counties produce more than a million pounds each yearly. Hurrah for the cheese that makes California famous!

Is there a woman thief working in Glendale

It certainly looks that way when the housebreaker discriminates in favor of cold cream, perfume, lip sticks, jewelry, clothes and money.

For what "regular guy" among the profession of crooks would chance his life to grab a lip stick. And what sort of a fellow would fall for a variety of jewelry when actual cash is to be found.

Were diadems of diamonds to be picked up from dresser tables, or pure pearls hidden in the jewel case, there is no reason to doubt but what a professional second story worker is getting "ethical swag."

Not so with the variety of loot reported gone from Glendale homes this week. There is something effeminate about the jobs.

Were we sun-worshippers it might be possible to appreciate the statements by a speaker before the Tuesday Afternoon club to the effect that solar magnetics control the universe!

An understanding of this subject, it was said, would give one a better insight to music or fist fights—and probably printers' mistakes. All of which is very interesting, but there being no way in which to control Old Sol it would seem reasonable that the best we mortals can do is to rectify wrongs as fast as possible and let the ethereal powers take care of themselves.

Average Americans are too busy dodging automobiles to gaze at the sun and wonder what each new spot will mean to man.

You may be a busy business man, a hurried housewife, retired, or a student, but whoever you are do you regularly read the advertisements? Women's Sports Idea Is Gaining in France

PARIS — The American idea of sports for women is rapidly gaining headway in France, despite opposition in certain circles. An instruction has just been given by the new Bishop of Strasbourg, Mgr. Ruch, which will probably have considerable influence in converting those who still think sports harmful to girls and women.

Manager Ruch was chief chaplain of the French armies during the war and took great interest in organizing sports for the men. He now argues that since an athletic training was obviously so successful in the case of the men with whom he came in contact it should be equally good for women. He has, accordingly, given instruction that all the Catholic girls' societies within his diocese should, under medical supervision, institute athletics for girls, a lead which is likely to be copied in other parts of France.

IDLE BECOMING NIMRODS

TOPEKA, Kan.—The unemployment situation throughout Kansas has forced numerous idle men to adopt a Nimrod's life, to earn their living.

More than 75,000 hunting licenses have been issued in the State this year, which is double the number issued last year, according to a recent announcement made by Alva Clapp, State Game Warden. In some counties six times as many hunting licenses have been issued this year as last, Clapp said.

==there's activity at Verdugo Woodlands

Thousands of people from all sections of Los Angeles and environs are visiting the glorious green woodland heights above this progressive city—and they are wide-awake to the buying and building activity in progress. They are keenly alive to the unsurpassed beauty of this evergreen vale and the potential investment value of its homesites.

Glendale folks are beginning to realize what a glorious foothill paradise lies on the slopes just above them. They know what happened over in the Hollywood foothill district—and they foresee a repetition of development and value-creating on the eminences of this rapidly growing community.

Why build your home—or buy one—in the flat, uninteresting sections of the city? Why not join the nature-loving colony happily established in this delightful valley among the green Verdugo hills? Live where the very environment is a constant inspiration—where you'll find peace, quiet, contentment, and rest.

Big villa sites at $1000 and upwards. Honestly-built homes at $7500 to $12,000.

Buried Riches to Be Sought in Arkansas

DENVER, Colo.—In a charted cache in the wilds of the Ozark mountains of Arkansas there is buried some $2,500,000 in Spanish gold.

So says Anthony Fenninger, who is organizing a company in Denver to search for the hidden treasure.

Fenninger professes to have discovered the key to the hiding place of the gold, which, he says, was buried in the White River country more than 150 years ago.

The key to the location of the cache was discovered by accident, says Fenninger.

I knew nothing of the buried treasure until I went to Eden's Bluff on a squirrel-hunting trip last fall," says Fenninger. "Across the river from the bluff I stumbled over a stone covered with stranage hieroglyphics. I scraped the dirt and moss from the inscriptions and called the attention of a native to the find. This native told of an extended search that had been made by the Spanish government for the buried bullion twenty-two years ago. Searching parties, he said, had been covering the country every year since the Spaniards left."

The treasure, Fenninger says, was buried by a party of settlers to keep it from falling into the hands of Indians. The settlers later were murdered by the aborigines.

"A party of native Arkansans is supposed to have discovered the tunnel to the cache ten years ago," Fenninger says. "They abandoned an effort to reopen the shaft after one member of the party was killed by a slide."

Several prominent Denver men have signified their intention to accompany Fenninger on his search next spring.

League of Housewives Is Formed in Hawaii

HONOLULU, T. H.—"The Housewives 'll git you ef you don't watch out!"

This refrain, with variations, has become a watchword among the merchants of Honolulu since the women of this city have banded themselves together in a militant organization known as the Housewives' League.

Organized for the purpose of combatting the H. C. L., the league constitutes each of its members a committee of one to report all instances of overcharging on the part of local merchants. Such reports are investigated by officials of the league and if found to be true are taken up with the offending merchant. Usually a tactful suggestion that failure on his part to reduce his price or prices to those prevailing throughout the city might result in the members of the league withdrawing their trade from his establishment is sufficient to bring about a very prompt reduction in the offending charges.

The militant housewives have also spread terror among the domestic servants, who have at times threatened to organize for the purpose of securing increased wages and decreased hours of labor. Announcement by the league that a certain class of servants would be boycotted if their threats of organization were carried out was recently effective in avertinng a threatened servants' strike. The league has most recently turned its attention to the cleaning up of insanitary food shops throughout the city, and so potent has the name of the organization become that the mere rumor of its intended action has resulted in a general cleanup being started among many of the establishments under suspicion.

Organizer of Famous Swindles Again Taken

PARIS — Henri Rochette, who started life as an errand boy in a little cafe and became the most famous swindler of the past decade in France, has just been rearrested by the Paris police, charged with organizing a new series of bogus concerns. He was found in a luxurious apartment whose walls were literally covered with pictures of beautiful women whose hearts he had won.

Rochette's swindles, according to the police, total more than $40,000,000. He inveigled into his clutches all sorts of people—cautious bankers, venturesome business men, small shopkeepers, women who fell in love with him, relatives and best friends.

The few hundred dollars that his aunt left him when she died was enough to start the errand boy on the road to crime. He took lessons in bookkeeping and obtained a job in a private bank. The bank failed, but Rochette borrowed money, put it on its feet and a few months after he had quit his cafe job was a bank proprietor.

He organized a company to exploit copper mines which only existed in his own imagination. The copper company collapsed, but Rochette escaped arrest by organizing a larger concern which took over the shares of his defunct corporation. For three years he constantly dodged jail by organizing fresh companies which supplied financial backing to his other ventures which were about to fail. The last concern he launched before his first arrest in 1908 had a capital of more than $3,000,000.

Political influence got Rochette off with a light sentence, but the police were on his trail again for new swindles within a few months. He fled to Mexico, but returned to France shortly after the outbreak of the war and joined the colors under an assumed name. His identity was soon learned and he was sent to prison.

Physician Quits Good Practice to Aid Russ

NEW YORK—When the liner America cleared from this port a few days ago for England she carried as one of her passengers a young physician of the southwest, who, despite his youth, had been looked upon in his home state as a leader in his profession. He has turned his back on what promised to be a rapid climb to the heights to engage in the more self-satisfying work of relieving the distress of a stricken people.

The physician is Dr. George B. Cornick, of San Angelo, Texas, son of Dr. Boyd Cornick, foremost of the tuberculosis specialists of that region. The younger Dr. Cornick, who is but twenty-seven years old, is on his way to the famine districts of Russia, where he will lend his skill to the effort of the American Relief Administration to nurse suffering children back to health.

Dr. Cornick, who is a graduate of the Texas State University and who has been commended for his work on the medical staffs of the New Haven General Hospital, of New Haven, Conn.; the Willard Parker Hospital, of New York City; the St. Louis Children's Hospital and the Cornick Tuberculosis Sanitarium, at San Angelo, Tex., has devoted himself to the treatment of children.

"I am going to Russia," he said, "because I believe in this great movement. There is work and hard work for all of us, but the reward, even if only one life is saved, is worth while. None of these children is responsible for its condition, and we all should help them."

Dr. Cornick had applied to the American Red Cross for permission to join the relief expedition and was referred to the American Relief Administration, which immediately accepted his services. He is on a blind trail.

MERCHANT MISSED PANTS

COLUMBUS, Ohio—It was before breakfast. Neighbors noted P. Wolman rush out of his home on Monday morning.

"What's your hurry?" asked one, as Wolman passed him in the street. But Wolman didn't answer.

He never stopped until he arrived at his store, 51 South Fourth street. He had guessed right. He found that five pairs of trousers he had hung out for a Saturday night sale were missing. The police were asked to do their best to find the pants, which he forgot to take in when he closed up his store.

T. D. L. Theatre Plays Jackie Coogan in 'My Boy' Last Times

Today will see the last showings of the truly remarkable picture "My Boy," starring Jackie Coogan at the T. D. & L. theatre where this attraction has been presented during the past several days to capacity audiences. One can not speak too highly of "My Boy" as a film attraction. It contains all the elements of an exceptionally good photoplay and has entertained thousands of Glendale's citizens and patrons of the T. D. & L. theatre.

"My Boy" is just such a picture and story as will be remembered by both grown-ups and children and has proven one of the best films seen here in quite a long while. So many have seen it it seems hardly necssary to write about it at this time, but for the benefit of those who have not attended the performances this mention is for the purpose of stating that it will not show again after today and it's a picture everyone should see.

It always hurts a young man a little when some girl he knows tells him that she is engaged.

Postoffice Is Aid for Stamp Collectors

WASHINGTON—The post office department has become an ally to stamp collectors.

A recent order of Postmaster General Hays provides for the establishment of a philatelic stamp agency. This agency will sell stamp paper, including rare and obsolete issues, desired by stamp collectors.

Philatelists and stamp dealers have repeatedly requested this kind of service for the last thirty years, because local post offices have not always been able to supply stamped paper of the kinds desired for collection.

The philatelic stamp agency was sponsored by Third Assistant Postmaster General Glover and will be under his direction.

MONASTERY WINE MYSTERY

Mystery surrounds an old monastery near South Lea farm, Datchet. The greater part was pulled down some years ago and fire destroyed a good deal of the remainder. There are several deep wells, and it is said that at the bottom of one there are 3,000 bottles of wine placed there by monks, but an attempt to find them has failed. Under the ruins are a large number of earthenware bottles of quaint pattern, and there is a legend that a subway leads from the monastery to Burnham abbey.

HARVEYS TO HAVE FINE HOME IN WOODLANDS

Another Showplace Being Built; News Notes About People of Verdugo Hills

One of the finest residences under way in Glendale at the present time is being built on Opeechee Way in Verdugo Woodlands for Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harvey. It is on property adjacent to the home of the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Woodill, who have a showplace unequaled with its tennis courts, swimming pool and unsurpassed landscape architecture.

To Build New England Style

C. B. Drake of Utica, Ill., has purchased a lot on Hermosita Drive in Verdugo Woodlands from the F. P. Newport company and is planning to build a two-story New England type of house in the foothills of Glendale. Mr. Drake was joyous at being able to get such a sightly place for his home the rest of his life, it is said.

Straightening Wash Channel

Peter L. Ferry, well known local contractor, has a large crew of men and teams at work in the Verdugo wash just north of the Verdugo Woodlands subdivision straightening the channel. He is working under the direction of the county flood control department, the city of Glendale and the F. P. Newport company, all of whom are anxious to make the wash sufficient in depth and width to carry off the water during heavy rainstorms without breaking out of bounds and destroying Glendale property.

Record Run for Old Reo

C. R. Phillips, superintendent of the F. P. Newport company Verdugo Woodlands tract, claims that he has a real automobile in a 1914 Reo touring car which will carry or pull all he can put on it. It has done 115,000 or more miles with not more than $50 mechanical expense, he says, and it is good for another 100,000. In the eight years' time he has recovered the top three times and painted the body but once. The original leather upholstery remains intact. Mr. Phillips resides at 1716 Opeechee Way.

IRISH LINEN STORE GETS MORE ROOM; BUSINESS GROWS

W. G. Lauderdale Has Become Partner With W. L. Moore; Clearance Sale Now On

One thousand feet of additional floor space is made immediately available for the Irish Linen store at 117 North Brand boulevard by tearing out partitions in the storeroom and at the earliest possible date a stockroom, office and space for stamping linen will be built at the rear, according to an announcement made by W. L. Moore who has taken W. G. Lauderdale as a partner in this prosperous enterprise.

Mr. Lauderdale was formerly engaged in a similar business at Ellensburg, Washington, and has fifteen years of merchandising experience to add to Mr. Moore's three years' acquaintance with Glendale's demands. The latter came here after acting as agent for a Belfast linen house for years. The same policy which has built the Irish linen store to its present proportions will be pursued, according to Mr. Moore, but with the acquisition of a partner and additional floor and shelving space expansion will be facilitated. The annual clearance sale is now in progress.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar from any good druggist and use it like cold cream. —Advertisement.

ECONOMIC PROGRAM TO BE OBSERVED BY 'Y' GROUPS

Secretary Rex C. Kelley in Statement Tells About 'Financial Creed'

In commenting on the part the local organizations will take in the National Thrift Week program, Rex C. Kelly, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, stated as follows:

"National Thrift Week of the Y. M. C. A. economic program will be observed by the Glendale Y. M. C. A. groups January 17-23. The National Thrift Week committee, with the cooperation of banking institutions, trade organizations, women's clubs and business associations, have organized to bring to the American people a comprehensive definition of one word, 'Thrift.'

"This great national school will be in session from coast to coast the week of January 17, Benjamin Franklin's birthday, and will teach that thrift is not hoarding, but that it is summed up in the ten-point financial creed on which the National Thrift Week program is based."

Here is the creed, as recited by Mr. Kelley:

1—Work and earn.
2—Make a budget.
3—Record expenditures.
4—Have a bank account.
5—Carry life insurance.
6—Own your own home.
7—Make a will.
8—Invest in reliable securities.
9—Pay your bills promptly.
10—Share with others.

To Press Home Points

The meaning and understanding of each of these ten points will be brought before the boys of Glendale, but it is planned to lay special stress on the "Work and Earn" and "Share With Others."

While Thrift Week is being observed by a great many of the local organizations in other cities, the boys' groups are the only ones participating in Glendale, according to the statement made by Mr. Kelley.

'Partners of Tide' Rejuvenating Picture on Glendale's Screen

Even a blase critic could not but feel rejuvenated by the freshness and invigoration of Irvin V. Willat's second independent production, "Partners of the Tide."

"Partners of the Tide" is adapted from the story of the same name, by Joseph C. Lincoln, the famous novelist. There is a highly capable cast, including Daisy Robinson, Gordon Mullen, Jack Perrin, Florence Midgely, Bert Hadley, J. P. Lockney and Marion Faducha.

The story is one that holds interest throughout. It is a simple story of simple people living by the edge of the sea.—and after the deluge of so-called "society plays" with which we have been surfeited, it is a very welcome relief. The photography is good, particularly the water scenes.

Baby Peggy will please you in a rippling mirth-maker called "The Cleanup" while Pathe News and Aesop's Fables Modernized complete the program personally recommended by Manager William A. Howe.

THAT SHARING SPIRIT

In an orderly house an announcement was placed in the bathroom to the effect that, since everyone shared in its benefits, everyone was asked to take a hand in helping to keep it neat and tidy. That idea carried through a home would greatly relieve the housewife, and at the same time inculcate the community spirit. A housewfe is sometimes driven to declare that the only way to make those about her realize what thought and care are needed to ensure a comfortable home would be to neglect it until this was sufficiently obvious.

MUSIC CLUB PLANS MEMORY CONTEST; OFFERS PRIZES

All Organizations in City Will Be Requested to Help in Campaign

As the last week in February has been selected as County Music Federation week by the members of the executive board of the California Federation of Music clubs, a meeting of the executive board of the Glendale Music club was held Tuesday afternoon in the music room of the high school for the purpose of formulating plans for a music memory contest which is to be staged in this city over a period of five weeks and try-outs for which will be held during the County Music Federation Week.

At the meeting fifty phonograph records, to be announced later, was agreed upon to be used during the music memory contest, which will be under the general direction of Mrs. Dora Gibson, supervisor of music in the high schcool.

Co-Operation Sought

Every organization in the city will be asked to appoint a member to serve on the general committee, and a meeting of these representatives has been called for next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the high school.

It is expected that the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce and all of the civic associations, womens' clubs and Parent-Teacher associations will be given in connection, according to Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the Glendale Music club, and who is also state director of the extension department of the Federation of Music clubs.

Miss Marjorie Yarick will represent the Junior Auxiliary and has been chosen as executive secretary of the committee. Miss Brenneman will be the chairman for all of the grammar schools, and other committees will be appointed later.

Prizes to Be Given

There will be a first prize for the grammar school, and one for the high school, as well as many other prizes. The music memory contest is to extend over a period of five weeks and ten of the fifty records will be played each week at the music stores, schools and possibly at the theatres of this city.

Plans were also discussed in regard to the program for the anniversary of the organization of the Glendale Music club, which will be held at the high school the third Friday in February, and details of which are being kept a secret. It will be a semi-social evening.

Announcement was also made of the program to be presented to the members and friends of the club and its auxiliaries by the members of the Junior auxiliary the evening of Friday, January 20.

Glendale Heights Is Subdivision Offering Fine Sites for Homes

The subdividing of the fifty-acre tract at the southeast section of the city, in the vicinity of Adams street and Palmer avenue, into 270 residence lots offers to the prospective home builder the opportunity of obtaining some of the finest hillside home sites and other fine plots of ground in the city of Glendale. Guy Wilson of 226 South Brand boulevard has been appointed exclusive Glendale agent for this new subdiviston, which has been named the Glendale Heights super-subdivision.

This fifty-acre tract was recently sold for Mrs. Maude Schofield to the president of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company, C. W. Nibley, and is being subdivided through the Haddock-Nibley company of Los Angeles.

It is stated that a view of the entire city of Glendale and San Fernando valley from this property is only one of the desirable features. The members of the city council, city manager and mayor inspected the property yesterday, at the request of the owners, with the view of investigating the possibility of straightening Adams street, which at present has several jogs between Acacia street to the end of the tract, and that the consent of the larger number of property owners in that district has already been obtained for that purpose.

Edison Is Outdone By Detroit Sleuth

DETROIT — "The police have thrown out a dragnet" is obsolete.

The progress of science is inevitable.

Which brings us to the subject of the automatic, electrically-operated mantrap developed by Robert A. Vander Pyl, of the police headquarters' executive office.

On Saturday morning Vander Pyl found his family garbage can beside the first-floor bedroom window of two young ladies who room at his flat. So he rigged up a cute little contraption consisting of two barrel staves hinged together at an end. The other two ends were kept apart by a small spring from an old couch. The staves carried metal contact plates which touched only when the staves were pressed together. He placed the hinged end under the garbage can beneath the window and attached the contact plates wires which were run through a cellar window and connected with the doorbell.

And that is how Glenn Ritchie, twenty-five got into trouble. He rang the bell, and Vander Pyl arrested him. Ritchie is being held until doctors can examine him.

London Is Shocked By Proposal to Set Up Big Skyscrapers

LONDON—Will London eventually come around to the idea of the skyscraper? An increasing number of British architects are beginning to think so. The other day the Old Lady of Threadneedle street, as the Bank of England is popularly known, received the shock of her life when Professor A. E. Richardson of the University of London proposed tearing down the old structure and erecting a twenty-three-story tower building.

Professor Richardson drew a sketch of his proposed building, with architectural ornaments which give the appearance of church steeples. This sketch, the author declared, was more to illustrate a principle than actual building.

"There are certain places in the city and in other parts of London," he said, "where the height of buildings could be raised without damage to the general aspect.

"Such a case is the Bank of England. I have prepared this sketch partly to arouse criticism and discussion and partly to call attention to the fact that it should be possible to build, from within the bank, a building which would act as a foil to St. Paul's."

Somebody thought of asking the opinion of the Lord Mayor on the proposed skyscraper, especially as his Mansion House is directly opposite the site. He laughingly regarded the entire plan as a joke.

Among the English architects some favorable comment was elicited. One well-known architect came out publicly in favor of the new idea.

"The only trouble seems to me," he said, "to be that if they are going to put up buildings like that in London they will have to pull down the whole place and start afresh.

"One large building on this site would throw all the rest out of focus. It would not be a bad plan to rebuild the whole 'show' on sound lines, not excluding the skyscraper, so long as the entire scheme is in harmony."
